

Assignments due March 3

Middle School

Friday

- Read chapter 18 in The True Confessions of Charlotte Doyle
- Write a narration of the chapter you read in your composition notebook. Try to write as clearly as possible and be prepared to share in class tomorrow.
- Read “Nocturne in a Deserted Brickyard,” “Between Two Hills” and “Pods” from your poetry book.
- Complete first body paragraph section of outline for your persuasive essay. Remember, you can use the attached powerpoint to remind yourself of each element covered in class.

Monday

- Read chapter 19-20 in The True Confessions of Charlotte Doyle
- Write a narration of the chapter you read in your composition notebook. Try to write as clearly as possible and be prepared to share in class tomorrow.
- Read “The White Horse Girl and the Blue Wind Boy” in Rootabaga Stories.
- Complete second body paragraph section of outline for your persuasive essay. Remember, you can use the attached powerpoint to remind yourself of each element covered in class.

Tuesday

- Read chapter 21 in The True Confessions of Charlotte Doyle
- Respond to the following journal entry in your composition notebook:
 - At the beginning of the book, Charlotte’s ambition is to be a lady. What do you think her ambition is during the voyage? What do you think her ambition will be as the book ends? What part of her experience do you think changed her ambitions the most?
- Copy “Window” in your commonplace journal. Feel free to add artistic elements to share in class tomorrow.
- Complete third body paragraph section of outline for your persuasive essay. Remember, you can use the attached powerpoint to remind yourself of each element covered in class.

Wednesday

- Read chapter 22 in The True Confessions of Charlotte Doyle
- Choose a quote from this week’s reading of The True Confessions of Charlotte Doyle to copy into your commonplace journal and share tomorrow.

- Choose a new poem to memorize to recite in class on March 28th. Remember that this will be the one you will use to inspire an art project. Copy the poem in your commonplace journal and be prepared to share add to sign up sheet in class tomorrow. (Please do not choose “Paper 1” or “Paper 2.”)
- Complete introduction and conclusion paragraph sections of outline for your persuasive essay. Remember, you can use the attached powerpoint to remind yourself of each element covered in class.

Supplies needed for next week

- Composition notebook
- Commonplace journal
- The True Confessions of Charlotte Doyle
- Pencils
- Colored pencils
- Poetry book